

The National Do-not-call law has been a great success, but until recently, I was still getting that unsolicited call at dinnertime. I beg you not to weaken the New Jersey do-not-call law and make my life more miserable.